I can still remember the first lesson I had with my English teacher, Mrs. Smith. The 1 remains vivid(鲜活的) to this day.

With a friendly, passionate(热情的) face and a pile of English 2 in her hands, Mrs. Smith asked us if we all believed that we could be top English learners and speak English 3 like native speakers. Many of us didn't believe it. Mrs. Smith looked at us with wide eyes and told us that she believed that anyone could be a top student. Then, she told the whole class that she would help us become top students if we had 4 and good methods.

After a while, she began to teach us her strategy(策略). First of all, she told us that we should be 5 pronunciation and intonation(语调). As we all know, reading English passages aloud is very important, but if you read word by word, it would sound very 6.

Mrs. Smith told us that we should 7 the words clearly and correctly. She told us not to 8 or swallow any vowel(元音). If there were foreigners around, we could pay attention to their mouths when they spoke. Their mouths would be opened wide to make the sound 9. Only when you read the sound correctly will it sound good. Mrs. Smith also told us to read a passage with a cadence(节奏) combining the 10 and falling tones.

Later, the teacher explained how to “accentuate(重读)” certain individual words, such as nouns, verbs and adjectives. To make it clear, she offered some examples with two different pronunciations of a sentence to 11 strong emotions. In “Nice to meet you”, for example, we should 12 “meet” to show our happiness.

Toward the end of that class, Mrs. Smith also offered us some good 13 to learn English. We should actively take part in group activities because it can help develop our communicative abilities. More importantly, we should attentively listen to others, 14 others' strengths, avoid weaknesses and imitate(模仿) authentic English expressions and thinking patterns. With the help of such a kind and patient English teacher, I have faith that I will be a 15 learner. She is not only our teacher but also our good friend.

B

For New Year in 2022, my family and I went to Hawaii. We stayed in Honolulu for one week. On the last day before coming back to Houston, we went to a Luau(a Hawaiian style party). The luau was held at the Hale Koa Hotel. My younger sister and I were wearing colorful floral(花的) dresses, and my parents were also dressed for the 16. When we arrived, they had activities for us to do, 17 making headbands out of palm leaves and making flower bracelets(手镯).

When it was time to eat, everyone gathered around the imu(a type of oven in the ground) where the chefs pulled out a whole 18 pig called kalua pork(卢卡阿烤猪). It's a(n) 19 Hawaiian dish where the pig is 20 for long hours in a pit dug in the ground. It smelled so good that you could taste it in the 21. When we sat down, our plates were 22 with rice, chicken and salad—along with the pork. For dessert, we had fresh pineapple ice cream, which was the best ice cream I have ever had.

My favorite part of the luau was the performance, which included many traditional Hawaiian dances. In the middle, there was an audience dance 23. The performers came out into the audience to choose contestants. I was tapped on the shoulder and 24.

A man came behind my chair, put out his hand and said, “Will you join me?”

It was 25. I replied, “Um, sure, why not?”

In my head, I'm thinking, “What did I 26?”

As we were walking up on stage, in a 27 voice, I told him, “I am literally the worst dancer.”

When we got on stage, I started to 28 my confidence. When he started to show me the dance, I tried my best to follow along: arms out, up and down all while moving your hips. When it was our turn to dance, I could not stop laughing. I was laughing through the entire dance because I felt 29 silly. We did not win despite my best efforts.

Later, on the day back to our hotel, I found out I was only picked because my mother had arranged it carefully. She had gotten the attention of the man and pointed him in my direction. Despite the 30, it was still fun.

Before Michelle, 16, from Atlanta High School International Division, heard that her school was going to close due to the outbreak of COVID-19, she and her team members had worked for around a month to prepare for their drama.

To her 31, her mind went to all the dance and song practice that would not be able to take place. “It was already difficult enough to finish all the 32 with offline rehearsals (排练)—how were we supposed to do it online? How do we practise dancing through Zoom, an online platform?” she kept asking herself.

However, nothing is impossible to a 33 mind.

The online rehearsals for their drama Aladdin《一千零一夜》, based on the Broadway musical and 2019 Aladdin movie, began in early March. Through Zoom, they rehearsed every day after class.

Due to online lag(延时), they chose not to play the background music for the songs—everyone sang without the soundtrack(配乐) and practiced 34 at home. Meanwhile, Michael, as the president of their Live 2 Drama (L2D) club, recorded every rehearsal and sent the video to the group chat so everyone could 35 it and practice.

In fact, Aladdin is not the first work of Michael. She joined L2D in the 8th grade as a member of the cast in Grease《油脂》. Now as the president of L2D, Michael is 36 making plans for set design, tech, reception, costumes, as well as the rehearsal schedules and scripts for the cast.

37 she has three years' experience in L2D, she felt 38 at first about the special online rehearsal "because I didn't know how people would 39 this new way of practising," said Michael.

To make sure it went 40 , Michael sent a survey into the group chat to get every cast member's advice every week and 41 the rehearsal schedule based on the survey.

Michael and the cast have run through all the 42 and songs and expected offline rehearsals after going back to school.

Michael feels that the 43 of these online rehearsals was truly due to the team effort. "Everyone works together with the same passion and devotion to drama. It is such 44 and dedication that makes me believe that we will get through this period and become 45 than ever."
